

Targeted Solutions to Strengthen Communities

Economic Development Program

Employment, affordable housing, transportation and access to credit are among the most pressing community and economic development issues in our region. FHLB Dallas' Economic Development Program (EDP) positions your institution to be part of the solution, especially during these difficult times brought on by the COVID-19 pandemic, and demonstrates your commitment to the communities you serve.

BENEFITS

- Pricing is below standard advance rates
- Creates economic opportunity for your consumer and business banking customers

How It Works

EDP provides favorably priced advances to assist eligible members in funding economic development projects and community revitalization in targeted communities. EDP funds are available to all member institutions year-round to support projects benefiting low- to moderate-income neighborhoods, and small businesses. In addition, any businesses or initiatives that comply, employ, serve or benefit a majority of low- to moderate-income individuals may qualify.

Uses

- Hospitals, nursing homes and social services facilities
- Commercial and manufacturing initiatives
- Small business financing
- Public and private infrastructure
- Public facilities
