

Targeted Solutions to Strengthen Communities

Economic Development Program

According to the 2014 Federal Reserve Bank of Dallas Community Outlook Survey, employment, affordable housing, transportation, and access to credit are among the most pressing community and economic development issues in our region. FHLB Dallas' Economic Development Program (EDP) positions your institution to be part of the solution and demonstrates your commitment to the communities you serve.

BENEFITS

- Demonstrates your commitment to the communities you serve
- Creates economic opportunity for your consumer and business banking customers
- Small businesses can apply for an associated EDP^{Plus} grant of up to $25,000

How It Works

EDP provides favorably priced advances to assist members in funding economic development projects and community revitalization in targeted communities. EDP funds are available to all member institutions year-round to support projects benefiting low- to moderate-income neighborhoods. In addition, any businesses or initiatives that comply, employ, serve, or benefit a majority of low income individuals.

Uses

- Construction
- Refinancing
- Small business financing
- Capital improvement
- Public works projects
- Civic centers
- Industrial facilities
- Historic preservation
- Hospitals, nursing homes, and social services facilities

Members must agree to comply with the FHLB Dallas' Community Investment policies and procedures. Application approval and disbursement of funds are subject to compliance with FHLBDallas' credit, capital stock, collateral, and Community Investment policies.
